

Government
of South Australia

Department for Communities
and Social Inclusion

The Code of Fair Information Practice was withdrawn by the Department for Communities and Social Inclusion due to changes to Commonwealth legislation and amendments to the Information Privacy Principles Instruction, in response to recommendations of the DeBelle Inquiry.

DCSI now relies on the State Government's Information Privacy Principles Instruction issued as Premier and Cabinet Circular 12.

Details about DCSI's commitment to information privacy, is available on the Freedom of Information, Open Government and Privacy pages.

This came into effect on February 4 2014.